

Message of the Month:

Challenge of the Month: Set your Academic Goals

Summer is over and its time to get back to the books. Look at final academic report card from last year (with your parents) and write down your academic goals (your grades for each subject) for the first grading period of this year. Be realistic.... Its okay not to get all A's just as long as you try your best.

For those of you who were graded on your behavior and study skills make a strong attempt to improve those areas that you received poor grades. For example, turning in your homework, being respectful in class, being respectful to classmates, etc.

Write down your goals and present them to Master Rhee. All students who submit their goals by 9/16 will receive a star and a Jhoon Rhee decal.
